JURY GIVES VERDICT FOR $1200

Motion to Have It Set Aside Filed With Clerk on Claim That it is Against the Evidence—Short Calendar Business Today.

In the civil superior court here on Thursday, the suit of J. J. Kelley, adm., vs. E. L. Bradbury of Bridgeport for $5,000 damages, was continued, a verdict being received at closing time of court for $1,200 for the plaintiff, after which a motion to set aside was made.

When the court opened Thursday morning, the examination of Dr. H. M. Lee was completed and he was given a brief cross examination. After testimony by Nelson V. Porter and Morton M. Jeffers, the plaintiff rested.

It was claimed that the child had to pass the horse to get to his home. In doing so, the horse knocked him down and stepped on him.

William A. Holmes, the driver of the team for Mr. Bradbury, was called for the defense, and testified that the horse was tied and that every precaution was taken to prevent the animal from getting loose. There was brief testimony by A. H. Buffum, which closed the testimony for the defense.

The testimony occupied but an hour and forty minutes when the arguments were opened, Attorneys C. Hadial Hull, Nicholson, and H. A. Hull being heard. The arguments extended an hour into the afternoon session, after which Judge Wheeler charged the jury in forty minutes and at 3.40 they took the case for deliberation, Constable G. A. Thum being in charge of the jury.

At 4.30 o'clock the jury reported through Foreman A. W. Deneff that a verdict for the plaintiff had been reached, the amount being $1,200. It was accepted by the court.

Later a motion to set aside the verdict was filed by Attorney Nicholson on the ground that the verdict was against the evidence. This will be argued later.

The jury was excused until next Wednesday morning, inasmuch as there will be no court on Tuesday. Memorial day. Court was adjourned to come in this morning at ten o'clock for short calendar business. There are but few matters on the list and one uncontested divorce case.

GIFT PRESENTED

RETIRING SECRETARY MORSE

Special Guest at Dinner Given to Directors of Y. M. C. A. by President J. L. Case.

At Mabrey's on Thursday evening at 6.30 o'clock, President James L. Case of the Y. M. C. A. gave a dinner to the retiring general secretary, A. W. Morse. Covers were laid for twenty-three and the following menu was finely served:

Bouillon in-Cups Sallines
Boiled Salmon Boiled Potatoes
Green Peas Roast Turkey Turnips
Mashed Potatoes Radishes
Olives Spanish Salad
Graham Bread Sandwiches
Ice Cream Coffee

There were brief remarks by a number of those present and on behalf of some 50 to 60 members of the association W. S. Alling presented Mr. Morse a handsome French clock with which he spoke, expressing their great appreciation of Mr. Morse's work in the past 18 months as general secretary and wished him every success in his new field. The evening was one of much enjoyment for all present.

KILLED BY EARLY MORNING FREIGHT TRAIN.

Frank Sosnoski Found Dead Beside Track of C. V. Road.

Frank Sosnoski was killed while on the track of the Central Vermont railroad near the town of Groton, Thursday morning. He boarded at Joseph Olaf's on the Groton road and left there as usual Wednesday for his work at the Falls mill, but did not return at night. His dinner box was found near the bridge at the Yantic cemetery and the body above beside the track as the 5.20 inbound train went up Tuesday morning. The engineer said that he saw the man lying beside the track and called attention to it.

Sosnoski was a native of Poland and about 35 years of age. He was married and had a daughter. It is about six months since he came back, leaving his family in Poland. He had been working in the Saxton woolen mill, but of late had been employed in the Falls mill. He was about 50 years old and was well liked by his acquaintances and well spoken of by the townspeople.

Coroner Brown was notified and saw the body, which was slightly warm. There were marks as if he had been struck by a northbound freight. His clothing was torn on the back and across the body was a mark as if the breastband of the engine had hit him and carried him for some distance from where the engine had struck him. There was a gash on his forehead two inches long.

LOOKING FOR SUMMER CAMP.

F. H. Merrill Here from New York and Will Probably Locate at Groton Long Point.

Frank H. Merrill of New York, formerly general secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., is visiting in this city, the guest of M. W. Melochie. Mr. Merrill is on here from New York to look up a summer camping place for the boys of the West End Presbyterian church, where he is in charge of this work, which has had a broadening growth under his direction. Last summer the boys had a camp at Groton Long Point, and Mr. Merrill expects to be on the same point again this year, although possibly not in the same cottage. He wants to get the camp started so that the boys from New York can have a place before the Yale-Harvard boat race on the Thames, which is an event they would all be interested to attend.

FUNERALS.

John M. Newton.

The remains of John M. Newton, an artist here, died in this city, and taken in charge by Church &amp; Allen. There were many handsome floral forms. The burial was in Yantic cemetery where a committal service was held by Rev. W. W. Coleman. Trinity M. E. church. Many relatives and friends were present, including a delegation from the camp of Modern Woodmen. The bearers were George H. Stanton, Charles G. Burgess, James Furdon and John Biggs of Ionic camp.

Mrs. Wallace L. Pratt.

At 4.30 o'clock Thursday afternoon the remains of Mrs. Wallace L. Pratt arrived here from Boston, being taken in charge by Church &amp; Allen, burial being in the Hamilton avenue cemetery, where Rev. P. C. Wright officiated. Many were in attendance and there were handsome flowers. Friends acted as bearers.

Miss Nellie St. John.

Wednesday morning the funeral of Miss Nellie St. John was held from her late home, No. 116 Thames street, and at St. Patrick's church. Rev. Hugh Treanor celebrated a solemn high mass. Rev. J. A. Crumby being deacon and Rev. W. F. Cavanaugh sub-deacon. Two solos were sung. The bearers were John and Michael Mullin, J. W. Brass and James Coughlan. There were handsome flowers. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Third Company Meeting.

At the armory on Thursday evening, following the drill, the Third company, C. A. C., had a meeting to elect officers and portiers. One enlistment was received and the company was ordered to assemble at eight o'clock Tuesday to go to Groton City to take part in the parade. They will have dinner there and return in time for the parade here in the afternoon.

The letter was received from ex-Captain Coleman, extending his sincere thanks and appreciation for the present of a diamond ring which was recently sent him by the company.
